List Of Companies Posting Charges Related To Health-Care Law

Starting in 2013, companies that provide prescription-drug benefits for retirees under Medicare can no longer deduct this subsidy from their taxes, due to the federal health-care overhaul signed into law on March 23.

Since companies had created an asset based on these expected deductions, they will now need to take a charge to reflect the fall in the asset's value.

The following companies have announced the amount of their health-care-related charges. Search the subject code N/HCC for the latest news on this topic.
